POTTERS' WAGES CUT.

The Wilson Bill Made this Step Really Necessary.

WHAT THAT TARIFF MEASURE DOES

For this Important Industry - If Passed it will be Years Before the Potteries will Regain their Prosperity-An Interview with a Delegate to the National Association's Convention, who Steturned Satur-

Mr. C. W. Franzheim, of this city, who was at the meeting of the Potterv Manufacturers' National Association last week elected first vice president, returned from the meeting Saturday. An INTELLIGENCER reporter called on him last evening to get the facts as to a reduction of wages announced Saturday and of the outlook for the pottery industry in general, and particularly as connected with the Wilson tariff bill now pending in Congress.

Mr. Franzheim said a reduction of ten per cent had been made on all wages on what are known as the "working list." This includes all the skilled labor except in the decorating department. Since 1885, he said, the selling price of their product had steadily and materially declined. There liad been no reduction of wages since liad been no reduction of wages since 1885, when eight per cent was taken off. 1885, when eight per cent was taken on.
A further reduction had become absolutely necessary, regardless of anything but the reduced selling price.
In addition to this the employing potters have decided on a contingent reduction of twenty per cent. This is to be withheld, the average being the per cent named, pending the action of Congress on the Wilson bill. If it passes in its present form the amount withheld will be kept by the manufacturers. If the duties are raised five per cent then twenty per cent of the amount cent then twenty per cent of the above reserved will be returned, and in the same way the final action will decide if all, part or none shall be finally given the men. This is done simply to give

There was talk of offering the English wages blus the duty, but this was abandoned. There will be no cut on common labor, as it is thought to be paid low enough new.

Mr. Franzhoim says he knows of one English manufacturer who has 700 crates of ware ready to ship here as soon as the Wilson bill passes. He has no doubt that it will pass the house substantially us it now is, but thinks when it comes back from the senate it will not be recognized by its best friend. Mr. Franzheim says he thinks every Democrat in the house will vote for the bill, though petitions against it have piled up and not one for it been re-ceived. The people at Washington, re-moved from the depression in the industrial communities, do not feel the pressure. They act on theory and pay no attention to the experience of people in the industries.

The depression in his industry, he said, is due solely to the Wilson bill.

Take it out of the way and the outlook would be bright.

DEATH OF MRS. WEIR.

A Highly Esteemed and Respected Lady Passes Away. Saturday night at 9:15 o'clock Mrs.

Catherine Weir died at her residence, 2717 Wood street, South Side, after an illness of ten days, the complaint being the dread grip. Mrs. Weir was wellknown and highly respected in this city where she has resided for a number of years. She was the wife of Patrick Weir, custodian of the United States Customs house, and the mother of William F. Weir, the well-known Market street hatter. There are three other sons, James J., who is an employe of the Baltimere & Ohio read at Garrett, Thomas and John who reside in Whoeling. The daughter, Miss Caroline Weir, resided with her mother.

The husband and children have the sincere sympathy of the community in this the hour of their deepest affliction. The funeral will occur Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the residence of the de-ceased. Requiem mass will be said at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 0:30 a. m. Mrs. B. McNamara, of Baltimore, a aister of the deceased, arrived in the city yesterday, and a sister of Mr. Weir, Mrs. Celia Cottrell, of Richmond, Va, is also here to attend the funeral.

1119 MAIN STREET,

THE RELIEF WORK.

Many Families Assisted Saturday-The

Saturday the store of the citizens' relief committee was open to issue provisions, etc. By the closing hour about 150 orders for provisions and clothing had been filled, swelling the total of cases so far relieved to 1,303. The following contributions were received:
Anonymous contributor, 12 bushels of potatoes; J. L. Hawley & Co., 50 pounds of rice; Albert Emblem Turner, 100 loaves of bread through the Wheeling Bakery; unknown; contributor, 12 loaves of bread and one package of clothing.

The tickets for work were issued in the police court room as usual at 3:30

The executive committee of the citizens' relief committee will meet at the chamber of commerce Tuesday even-ing at 7:30, and a full attendance is important.

The Wheeling Bakery's most generous offer to bake Tin Seal Bread, and to make the price $3 per hundred loaves to any of our good citizens who would donate 100 loaves or more to the relief committee, meets with most popular approval. Saturday 1,300 loaves were ordered placed at the disposal of the committee, and the Bakery now holds the baking of the same subject to their wish. The generous donators are Mr. S. S. Bloch, of Bloch Bros'. Tobacco Company, 1,000 loaves; the White Cross League, 100 loaves, and a gentleman who withholds his name from the public, 100 loaves. We most heartily thank these gentlemen for these splendid gifts, and especially the White Cross League, who have set an example that many so-cleties in the city would do well to fol-low. Nothing is more acceptable to the committee than this liberal donation of broad, and nothing relieves the present want among our people so quickly.

Fire Alarm at a Church.

A still alarm called the Niagara en-gine to the Chapline Street M. E. church yesterday forencon, where a flue was burning out. It had been over-heated by a natural gas blaze. The fire was put out by a Babcock extinguisher, with no damage to speak of.

THEY BROKE FAITH.

Somebody Must Answer for a Broken Promise to the Hawalian Government. Reported that the Ex-Queen is Likely to Die at Any Moment.

San Francisco, Jan. 14 .- From the statement of the Examiner's Honolulu correspondent, there is a prospect that United States officials, either at Honolulu or in America, may have to answer to the charge of breaking faith with President Dole. It is said that Minister Willis grow impatient at Dolo's delay in formulating his roply to Willis' demand of abdication and urgod greater haste, whereupon Dole called upon Willis and frankly admitted that he did not propose to submit his reply until the arrival of a vessel on which it could be dispatched simultaneously with the departure of the Corwin. Whereupon Willis agreed the Corwin should carry the dispatches of the provisional government. Dole then hur-ried forward his reply and sent it to Willis, who dispatched the Corwin early next merning. It transpires that no dispatches were delivered by the Corwin to the Hawaiian representatives in America.
The Examiner's correspondent also says Liliuokalani's douth from heart disense is liable to occur at any moment. Smothering spells have come upon her with alarming frequency of late. Visitors are prohibited and every late. precaution is taken to prevent excitement. Threats against her life have greatly conduced to her trouble.

MORTON WORRIED

Over the Criticisms of His Use of His Offield Frank-He Says It Was an Acci-WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14 .- Secretary Morton has been not a little vexed by the reports that he had used the official frank of the department in sending out copies of the much talked of addresses which he delivered in Chicago.

When he found one of these in parti-cular criticised very severely by the Grangers and their friends, he concluded to not even have them printed at the government printing office, a course in which, according to precedent, he would have been justified.

Mr. Morton's secretary says that if any publications of this kind were sent out under the secretary's frank it was through some subordinates, unwarranted. Mr. Morton had given explicit instructions that stamps should be used. Quantities of the secretary's reports were being sent out at the time of the mailing of the publications referred to and the documents may have become mixed with each other.

The secretary desires that any who have received these documents under government frank will return them to him.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Edward Hoffman Shoots His Wife and Himself at Sistersville.

SISTERSVILLE, W. VA., Jan. 14-This place is all torn up over a sensational tragedy which occurred here last night. Edward Hoffman shot his wife through the head and then shot himself, at their home on Water street, Hoffman had been drinking considerable for the last two weeks and family quarrels have been frequent, owing to his jealousy.

Hoffman seemed to be in bad spirits and exceedingly nervous. He said that his wife was going to leave him and get a divorce. He had been prevailing on her all morning not to go, but he could not get her to say that she would not go.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman had been separated once before for a short time, but they had gone together again and were living apparently happy till he com-menced drinking in the last two weeks.

THE CITY OF BERLIN.

A Wheeling Man in the Capital of the Fatherland-Graphic Description of the Great City-The Cost of Living. pecial Correspondence of the Intelligencer.

BERLIN, Dec. 23 .- Sojourning here for only a few days, one finds the time passing all too quickly if he wants to get a peep at the many places and things of interest. Situated about eight hundred miles north of West Virginia, the sun describés a short part of a circle in the southern horizon and gives us now only seven or eight hours of daylight. This city has a population of seventeen hundred thousand and is the greatest center of art, learning, commerce and manufacture in Germany. It abounds in-museums, art galleries and palaces for which it is famous. It is well guarded so far as a multitude of soldiers are able to give it protection, having as many men in uniform garrisoned about the city as are contained in the regular army of the United States.
Arriving at the Hotel Kaiserhof there were four attaches of the house in uniform at the droscake (cab) to extend kindly greeting to a stranger and carry his traps. One might think he were meeting old friends, so generous were their attentions.

After engaging a room, a servant in full dress led the way to the lift (elevator) and to the room where he produced a printed blank sheet of paper on which to register name, occupation and residence, then board himself out, subject to orders; and all servants should be credited with answering time the bell rings it has a tendency to make him smile rather than frown, as every response from head porter down to boots means a tip of a few pfennigs. This hotel, as well as some other first class houses, has steam heat, electric calls and lights throughout, so one need not to stumble over chairs and tables or walk through mirrors, a la Mark Twain, for want of a light. Opposite the hotel, across the wide plaza, is the American embassy, a cred-itable four-story building, over the portal of which the American eagle keeps vigil. General Runyun, the ambassa-dor, is popular here, and Uncle Sam's interest is, no doubt, well cared for by

The principal street is "Unter den Linden," a very wide thoroughfare, with rows of shade trees and seats through the centre, and splendid stores, public buildings and palaces on either side. At the west end of this street is the famous Brandenburger Thor, or gate, completed just one hundred years ago. It consists of a number of rows of great columns running the width of the street. Resting on top of the structure is the chariot of victory, a heroic group in bronze representing "Victoria" driving the Quadriga. It was taken by the French to Paris in 1807, but returned eight years later, when peace was established. Near the other end of the Linden is the magnificent eques-trian statue of Frederick the Great, in front of the royal castle. This splendid palace was completed as originally designed in 1451; but addition have been made every century since, until now it forms a right angle 470 feet long, 380 feet wide and 110 feet high; to the top of the golden cross on the chapel it is 230 feet. In contains seven hundred rooms and is the winter

-twelve and a half cents.

The stores generally are not large, but considerable taste and skill are exercised in the arrangement and display of goods about the shelves and windows. Room is money, so all space comatable is utilized and everybody seems busy whether any customers are residence of the Emperor William II. Every entrance is guarded by soldiers of the Royal Guard and visitors are not admitted when the imperial family is at home. At other times, however, entrance is permitted for fifty pfennigs in or not.

Clerks' salaries are very small. They have to serve three to five years to learn a business before they receive any wages whatever; then they get two to four dollars a week, according to ability. If a young man is especially industrious, of undoubted integrity and has push he may do better. An instance of this kind occurred in a wholesale dry goods house, where a clerk served his apprenticeship, continued at small wages until now he is buyer for the firm, and commands a salary of six dollars and twenty-five cents a week.

Labor of all sorts is very cheap. Men get for ordinary work thirty to fifty cents a day, and servant girls about the same per week, so it does not require much figuring to understand why most manufactured goods are so cheaper here than the same quality of goods in the United States.

America finds a market here for a few of her products. An article especially noticeable in grocery stores is Armour's Chicago corned beef, which sells largely.
All sorts of vegetables, fruits and eggs are sold by weight which seems to be a more equitable plan than the Yankee custom of measures with their uncertain capacity.

This is the land of Christmas trees.
Every family and every church must have its tree for this great holiday. Trees are planted and cultivated for this purpose. Christmas gifts, also, are a very important feature of the season. Every person who gives service free or for wages asks for and expects gifts. A gentleman showed me his list containing the names of persons who had called to ask him for a Christmas gift, and while looking over it two more persons came in for the same purpose. He asked them what service they had rendered him and they reminded him of something they had done during the year and he put them "on the list." The amount then footed up over twelve hundred marks and Christmas a week

All buildings both in cities and country are of brick, stone, marble or some other fireproof material, as the government does not permit any structures of frame or wood.
